

JOAN ROHR MYERS

Ohio Sunset

As light fades over Hardin County fields an Amish farmer turns his face glassy with sweat toward home.
At the fence line he strips off his black hat and lets go of the horse. Through the cottonwood's flutter he sees a sky red as the dress his woman would wear if it weren't such a sin.