

Amanda Walters Passing Remark

In summer I like the snow.
In life I like change.

In emotions I like loudness,
and in music I want rhythm.

My brother, a shy boy with no friend says, "Then how can you love me?"

Loudly I say in rhythm—
There are so many things admirable people do not understand.