

I Have Walked Many Roads

by Gail Castle

I

I have walked on many roads
I have witnessed the changing times
I have cried when loved ones died
Being left alone and behind

II

I have walked on lonely roads
And rejoiced finally at their end
I have walked on graveyard roads
To say farewell to a friend

III

I have walked on happy roads
But they were never long
I have walked on some right roads
And others that were wrong

IV

I have walked on country roads
I have viewed the Heavens above
I have walked on many roads
I have walked the road of love

V

Yes, I have walked the road of life
Oft carrying a heavy load
And tomorrow I know that I must
Yet walk just one more road
