Moving North

When snow get deeper Than your recent memories I'll wear my raincoat to class Flash the teacher at test time And think of our last summer

When the church knocks
On every door this spring
I'll poke your letters at them
Waggling the printed truth
And say I have a savior

This summer when birds Crap on my windshield And the grass needs cut Every other day I'll listen for the phone

